

A young girl with blonde hair in a ponytail, wearing a white sleeveless dress with small blue polka dots and white sneakers, is jumping rope on a chalkboard. The chalkboard has numbers 1 through 8 drawn in white chalk, arranged in a grid pattern. The girl is in the middle of a jump, with her feet on the number 3. The background is a dark, textured grey.

This is Emma's story. It begins with a tumour and a diagnosis of cancer. She is 3 years old. Her life is consumed by testing and treatment and struggling with illness. And just when it seems that she's finally healthy, another tumour is found and Emma's future looks dim. But Best Doctors sees it differently. Reviewing her tests and pathology, Best Doctors finds that the tumour isn't cancer; in fact it's not even a tumour. It's scar tissue, very treatable. Because of Best Doctors, Emma's story is a life story.
